Pot smoking 3-year-old

MIDDLETOWN parents are facing charges after a video shows their 3-year-old child smoking pot, according to police. Officers found the video while executing a search warrant at the Prospect St. home of Kristian Augeri, 23, and Thomas Way, 22, the Middletown Press reported. The arrests were made Feb 2.

The video allegedly shows the couple's child trying to light a glass pipe with a lighter, according to the paper. Way was laying next to the child, and Augeri appears to be the one filming the incident. At one point the child appeared to inhale and then start to cough, police said. A man who identified himself as Way's stepfather told NBC Connecticut Wednesday that the arrests were a misunderstanding, and that the child never smoked pot.

A woman who identified herself as the child's aunt denied the allegations as well. Way and Augeri face several charges, including risk of injury to a minor and use of drug paraphernalia. They are scheduled to be in court on April 15. Family members say the child is currently in the custody of an aunt. COURTESY WLBZ2
